Product description

Used plastic stacking bin, with a Euronorm 600x400 mm, a height of 200 mm and a capacity of 39 liters. Suitable for use in the food industry due to the hygienic properties of the material polypropylene. The storage bin has closed handles, which ensures a firm grip while lifting and moving the bin. In addition, both the interior walls and bottom of the bin have a smooth finish that makes them easy to clean. This stacking bin is suitable for use in food processing plants, distribution centers, catering establishments, supermarkets and other sectors within the food industry. Designed for various applications in the food industry such as storing, transporting and organizing ingredients, packaging materials and other related products.

Notice! Suitable for the food industry, but not provable by certification.
